Aviall awarded distribution rights by Honeywell for PT6/PW100/JT15D fuel controls

Dallas 07/16/02 Aviall Services, Inc. (NYSE: AVL) has been awarded a ten-year non-exclusive worldwide aftermarket parts fulfillment rights for Honeywell fuel controls used on PT6, PW100, and JT15D turbine engines, it was announced today by Paul Fulchino, Aviall's chairman, president and chief executive officer. Aviall will be responsible for aftermarket component sales, marketing, and customer order administration, service and support, as well as full-service product warehousing and distribution. The agreement is effective immediately.

According to Fulchino, "This expansion of our growing partnership with Honeywell allows us to better serve the global marketplace. We will offer one-stop shopping for these components through Aviall's extensive network of stocking locations. Moreover, with the industry's largest and most experienced aftermarket parts sales team, internet-based parts-quoting and computerized order-entry, and inventory control systems, we will be able to continue to create unique supply-chain efficiencies and true value for Honeywell customers as well as Honeywell itself."
